Winter Newsletter February/March 2026

These months, between the winter and spring holidays, tend to be our most focused learning stretch. Routines are comfortable, and you can feel the momentum in classrooms. It's a good time to check in on goals, build skills, and push a little further, especially with reading, writing, and numeracy. This term is also when we complete our mid-year assessments. These help us check progress, identify where students might need extra support or extra challenge, and plan instruction for the second half of the year. Thank you for your ongoing support, whether it's reading at home, helping your child be ready and grounded for each school day, or encouraging them when learning feels hard. It all matters, and it shows. You may have noticed the school feeling especially busy after 2:45. We have a full slate of after-school activities, and it's great to see students trying new things, showing commitment, and building confidence. A sincere thank you to the staff, coaches, and mentors for making these opportunities possible. That so many are making these programs happen says a ton about our community.

Winter also gives us some of our best outdoor learning. Even on colder days, getting outside helps students regulate, connect with the season, and learn in ways that stick. Swim and Whitewater days have been so fun! Learning to be competent swimmers, skiers, and snowboarders builds mental and physical confidence and strong connections.

Please let us know if your child needs a new extra-warm coat or other gear, as we have a supply in our Community Closet. As always, reach out to your child's teacher or me if there are ways we can boost our support of your child's learning.

Wolf Pack Update

The Wolfpack class has been busy learning, creating, and laughing together this winter. Students have been bringing “The Wild Robot” to life through dramatic play and imaginative retellings, sharing their ideas as growing readers and writers, and building a kind, caring classroom community. Outdoor learning has been a highlight with sunny walks in the snow, sledding together, and continuous laughter along the way.

Otter Class

In literacy the Otters are fine tuning grammar while learning about what makes personal narratives both clear and interesting. They are currently working on sequencing, which is helpful when describing the specific steps for accomplishing a task! Ozobots have been a hit in ADST, and last week’s snowfall was a perfect opportunity for a snow-fort building competition!!

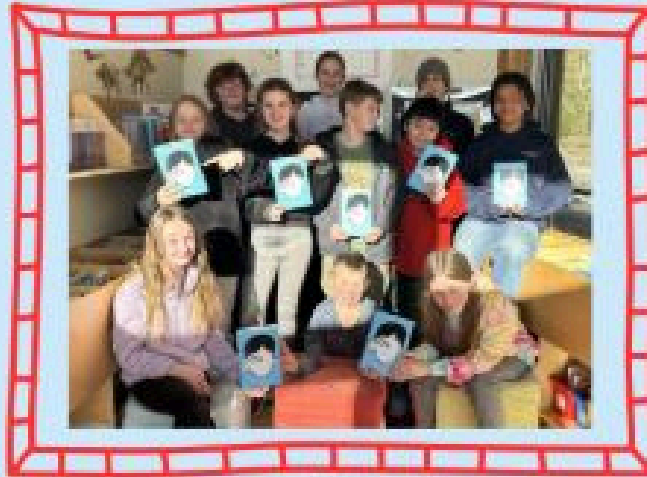

In math, we have been learning to tell time - but we sure could use some practice at home because this skill takes practice! We’ve been working our way across Canada, studying the provinces and cultures that impact those places. Next stop -Manitoba.

Grizzly Class Updates

GRIZZLY GRATITUDE

Dear PAC,
Thank you for generously buying the "Wonder" book for our class. We are super thankful that you got these books for us because we can read a great book together, improve our reading skills, improve our writing, and most of all, work together as a class. We are super excited because we will be able to watch the Wonder movie once we complete the novel. Thank you so much! Our class is very excited to read this book in class!

Dear PAC!
Thank you for the wonderful projector you plan to purchase - it will make working in the computer lab so much easier! It will make playing games, such as Bloket and Kahoot, possible, as we can't play in our classroom because we don't have our own devices. It will also benefit all the classes, not just ours. Thank you, PAC! We really appreciate the awesome projector... and it will make our teacher very happy!

Dear Cooks & Volunteers,
Thank you for the amazing Hot Lunch Program! We are very grateful for the delicious and affordable food you provide every week. We appreciate all the hard work and time you put into cooking for us every day. We enjoy every piece of food that you wonderful people make for us, and the fresh garden veggies in the salad bar. Thank you, cooks, volunteers, and the P.A.C. for the Hot Lunch Program.

This work aims to increase student input into district initiatives and student leadership in schools.
